It's time to wake up your sleepy senses
Now, forget the neon bites
It's time to switch on your weary feelings
Now, forget the other nights
Fire and fights, out of sight
Are you ready now to face the light
So leap out the window of your life

Set in motion your memories
Forsake you old dry corpses
And stand up for yourself

It's time to look away this useless mirror
That never comes to your help
Stretch your limbs, get out of your skin
Now hold up your head
There is a reason to learn reaction
A reason to know some motions
And it will be alright

Set in motion your memories
Forsake your old dry corpses
And stand up for yourself
Stand up for yourself
Stand up for yourself
Now stand up, stand up

Make up your mind
Stand up for yourself
Make up your
Your dream it too tight
Your dream it too tight

Oh leave your dream
Your dream is too tight
Find another dream
Another dream, alright

It's time to switch on the tv screen
Now make up your mind
Now make up your mind

Fire and fights, out of sight
Are you read now to face the light
So leap out of the window of your life

Set in motion your memories
Forsake your old dry corpses
This is the final thing I really want to do
That's what I want to do
