Starting tomorrow
If this night ever ends
Bring on tomorrow
'cause I'll be
Heading back home again
And I know I'll feel more alive
As soon as I'm not alone
Starting tomorrow
I'm gone
All I'm gonna do now
Is hang around waiting for the sun to rise
How can I sleep
When I hear a hundred voices in my head?
When I close my eyes
Shadows on the wall
Stillness all around
And a feeling in my heart
That won't let me settle down
I've been restless

There was a time when that was all I knew
But not anymore
It only comes around and bothers me
When I'm away from you
All night long it seemed like
Time was running slow
I can hardly remember now
Just why I had to go
Starting tomorrow
If this night ever ends
Bring on tomorrow
'cause I'll be
Heading back home again
And this long lonely time
Will be part of the past
Starting tomorrow
At last
