You fail to see religiously and criticise security

Let them fall one and all

Seek and you shall find

Apeace within the mind

Forever into destiny

The spark of life shines on in me

To see the light that shines on us all

Perchance on dreams in tragedy

To stop the fear that grows in me

Against them all, not one, but all

The sands of time fade out from me

Those sad eyes stare perpetually (back at me)

I can not change, watch me fall
