"September In The Rain"

There are days when I like to spend in bed all day guess what?
this is one of them
there are nights when I like to walk all night guess what?
it's gonna be one of them now I know by heart all the noises in my flat and I've been staring at this wall in front of me for so long that the design of this wallpaper has no mystery for me it's the map that gets me out of here it's the map that makes me think clear well I still see the same ol' people speaking to the same ol' friends and when they ask me about you I smile and say and say it's over now

It's always the same I'm spending my
alone again
I'm spending my

I didn't know what to do the other day when I saw you getting off the bus later I had to smoke my city down to the filter to realize I hope you're feeling fine 'Cause you can go all day around pretending it's all right you can shake hands, kiss other lips and shut your eyes but at night it's all a different thing at night it's the time we all feel that silent stream

well I still see the same ol' people
but when they ask me about you
