you see that everything depends on how one plans it but I could never hold my breath as long as you would you ever grab a chance when life demands it but I was dreaming of that chance when I was alone and I was searching, searching there's always somebody else

and I was searching, searching to get to you don't believe a word that's said, send your rain down to me
I never wanted anything else but lie in your arms don't believe a word that's said, we both know the story I never was the one to pretend that I'm not in love

that I'm not in love
that I'm not in love

I heard you say there's nothing more that we can do now but I believe there's nothing worse than nothing at all
and I was searching, searching there's always
somebody else
and I was searching, searching to get to you
don't believe a word that's said, send your rain down to
me
I never wanted anything else but lie in your arms

me
I never wanted anything else but lie in your arms

that I'm not in love
that I'm not in love

(don't believe, don't believe, don't believe, don't believe) (don't believe, don't believe, don't believe a word that's said)
