V: As I think about the past I can see all the love that we shared you and me. Do I stand alone with all my memories? Or confess my heart and so desperately. Knowing that you're not here with now. I will try to make it somehow. Mending a broken heart I find you're still deep inside.

Ch: I think of you all the time. And I can't get you out of my mind.
Now that I'm on my own, when I sit alone, thoughts of you stumble on my mind. That's why I think of you all of the time.

V: No matter how far the distance. May be. I carry thoughts of you deep inside my heart. Oh yeah. There is nothing more that I want then to have you right here instead of crying at night. The stars are my tears. Remembering the good times that we had.
And making you smile when things made you sad. All of things that I gave to you, I can't believe that we're through.

Ch: (To fade
