Take this man who comes to you
Take me to your side
I throw away my soulless days
I need you in my life
In the doorway of my heart
The presence of you shines
So put your face to my window
Trust what you see inside

Chorus:

What are these hands for
If I can't bring you fallen rain
What are these eyes for
If I can't see the moon
Watch over you
What are these arms for
If I can't hold you through the night
What does this heart beat for
If I can't lay by your side
You must know

I was made for you
I'll meet you by the wisdom tree
And I'll hold you so close
Come on out of the wilderness
Let love free you from your ghosts

Chorus:

What are these hands for
If I can't bring you fallen rain
What are these eyes for
If I can't see the moon
Watch over you
What are these arms for
If I can't hold you through the night
What does this heart beat for

If I can't lay by your side
You must know
I was made for you
We'll walk upon the hill
So high above the city
And count the rooftops down below
Lay on the grass
Dream out loud

Catch runaway chains
Dance in the rain
Someday you'll take my name
Chorus:
Kneel down in the moonlight
Let your hair fall down around
Blow out all your candles tonight
And I believe you will see
I was made for you
What are these hands for
What are these eyes for
Watch over you
What does this heart beat for
You must know
I was made for you
What does this heart beat for
If I can't lay by your side
I was made for you
