I've been waiting for your call
Why do I feel so small
How could this happend
It's getting closer to goodbye
And the traffic's getting wild, in my mind
You seem the thing you gave to me
Was not for me to keep
I know, there's so much of you
Too much of you in me

But at the first break of day
I'll be driving, I'll be on my way
I'll pack my bags and leave this place behind
'Cause baby someone new it's the cure for you

I'm a stranger in this town
I never liked the sound of people talking, yeah
But you made me want to be a harbour by your sea
If I could erase this memory
I'd catch the ghost of you
I know I
I've been living in the past to long
You're still inside of me

But at the first break of day
I'll be driving, I'll be on my way
I'll pack my bags and leave this place behind
'Cause baby someone new it's the cure for you

Everyone changes nothings stays the same
I know how to win this losing game
I drive away

But at the first break of day
I'll be driving, I'll be on my way
I'll pack my bags and leave this place behind
'Cause baby someone new it's the cure for you
