Sometimes bad
Sometimes worse
The silent bound has been washed away by tears
Still blinded by the situation
Baby we can never avoid this final confrontation
But you know as well as I

You won't see me dancing for a while
You won't hear my laugh through the cry
You won't see me dancing for a while
You won't see, you won't see me for some time

Sometimes dark
Sometimes black
Life is a mystery, wasn't it brighter in the past
I will call your sister
If you see me as a friend
The love of my life has got itself a new name
But you know as well as I

You won't see me dancing for a while
You won't hear my laugh through the cry
You won't see me dancing for a while
You won't see, you won't see me for some time

Na, na, na, na...

You won't see me dancing for a while
You won't hear my laugh through the cry
You won't see me dancing for a while
You won't see, you won't see me for some time
No, you won't see me, you won't see me for some time
