Look at you standing there, you look so out of place
I turn around one more time, regret still has your face
I can read your mind right now, you want me to stick around
But nothing end if I don't leave right now

Let me go, let me walk away, walk away, baby
I can't stay, let me walk away, walk away, baby
I'll be fine, I will recover and I will learn to love another
Sometimes goodbye's the hardest thing to say
So I'll walk away

It was love and there were times I even fooled myself
And I believe you really tried but some things you just can't help
As sure as we're both standing here, I can see it all so clear
And I can't wait for you to say goodbye

Let me go, let me walk away, walk away, baby
I can't stay, let me walk away, walk away, baby
I'll be fine, I will recover and I will learn to love another
Sometimes goodbye's the hardest thing to say
So I'll walk away

I can't hurt around now or I can hurt later
I think I'm getting over with, I think I'm getting over with

Let me go, let me walk away, walk away
I can't stay, let me walk away, walk away
I'll be fine, I will recover and you will learn to love another
Sometimes goodbye's the hardest thing to say
I'll walk away, away
