"When You Love A Sinner"

when you love a sinner,
you hate the sin
you hate the temptress in the bottle for choosin' him again and you blame the cold for the winter

when you love a sinner

I tell myself that everyrthing's okay
I paint a prety smile on my face your lovin' says, "he'll change" but on his breath and in his veins the truth stil remains deep down, you know that it's a crime you know you didn't pull the trigger but you're the one who does the time and you pay the debt; you're the lender

when you love a sinner

but I'm slowly lettin' go cause in my heart I know that I can't make him better and I've been goin' under and now I understand that you can't tread water with a drownin' man

I love a sinner
I justify it how I can so, it's the sin I'm leavin, not the man
