(Going up!)
A tamed tongue, double mind
Doing good, leave behind
Roll yourself in the dust
Shake it off, now raise him up
Don't lose sight of what you see
Look and stare, stand by me
Sleeping eyes read the heart
You got the job so you'd better
Learn to play the part
Save a soul, save a soul
Save your soul
Judge yourself by what you feel
Your body's changing
>From the flesh into the New Deal
You've got to rise when you fall
See the king, now hear him call
Let, let them sing, let them dance
A game of chance, a trap to catch
Save a soul, save a soul
Save your soul
Judge yourself by what you feel
Your body's changing
>From the flesh into the New Deal
Bow down, kneel and pray
If you're in the dark
You know you just can't turn away
King of glory, king of all
Save me now before I fall
Save a soul, save a soul
Save your soul
Judge yourself by what you feel
Your body's changing
>From the flesh into the New Deal
