The sun was shining
So bright, like it was smiling
And when it rained
We only got our feet wet
I believed you
I had no reason to doubt you
I had no faith without you
I had no reason at all

How will I know if you really loved me?
Spend the rest of my days looking down from above
At the times that we had, when we were together
I wonder if God has another forever for me

Then it was empty.
Not a sign, not a trace, just empty
Like when a door slams
It's the last thing you hear
But I could feel you
In a place no-one's been to
On the door, you were knocking
But there was nobody home

How will I know if you really loved me?
Spend the rest of my days looking down from above
At the times that we had, when we were together
I wonder if God has another forever for me
Another forever for me
Another forever for me

How much can I pay?
I've put all my money down
All I've got is this place
Where there's no sound
There's no sound

I found a key here
But it breaks if you turn it
And a picture
It still lasts if you burn it

How will I know if you really loved me?
Spend the rest of my days looking down from above
At the times that we had, when we were together
I wonder if God has another forever?

How will I know if you really loved me?
Spend the rest of my days looking down from above
At the times that we had, when we were together
I know I know there's another forever for me.

Another forever for me
Another forever for me
Another forever for me
Another forever
