I've seen bluer skies I've known brighter days I've had sunshine but now my skies are grey
You just told me you don't love me anymore
There is nothing I can do but watch the rain pour I can't believe that you're leaving me I can't believe that your love is really gone
It must be the rain I can't be crying it must be the rain our love can't be dying
I saw the lightning strike and I heard the thunder roll
When I thought I heard you say you don't love me anymore
I'll wipe those raindrops from my eyes and watch that rainbow paint the skies
I can't be crying it must be the rain I can't be crying it must be the rain [guitar]
I've felt heartache I thought would never mend
And I've seen rainy days I thought would never end
So why don't you turn around and look into my eyes And tell me you still love me and give us one more try I can't believe that you're leaving me I can't believe that
your love is really gone
Oh it must be the rain...
It can't be over it must be the rain I can't be crying it must be the rain
