The pieces fall slowly away
Did I fail to mention
The reason for my laughter
'times I feel like my mind is going insane
I am barely breathing
Searching for some comfort
'times it feels like it's raining on my brain

The pieces fall slowly away
And I need you to comfort my pain

Did I fail to mention
Life is moving faster
'times I feel like my mind is going to break
I'm losing feeling
No longer dream in color
'times I feel like it's raining on my brain
The pieces fall slowly away
And I need you to comfort my pain

Memories of you still stand strong
Memories of me were gone all along

The pieces fall slowly away
And I need you to comfort my pain

Time's the only question
Time's the only answer
And I wonder what is going on
Say that you'll never leave me
Say that you'll never leave me
'times I feel like it's raining on my brain
