

Marty Robbins

"Native Girl"

Visit "Native Girl" on MotoLyrics.com

On an island far away
Where the tropic breezes play
Waits a dark eyed native girl
The sweetest girl in all the world

I still miss her more each day
And the day I sailed away
I recall her last embrace
I see the tear stains on her face

I'm going back and find her
We take the vows that bind her
We take the vows that make us one
We live on island in the sun

Native girl loves me I know
Native girl I'm missin' so
Just for her my love still burns
Native girl I must return

I'm going back and find her
We take the vows that bind her
We take the vows that make us one
We live on island in the sun

Visit Marty Robbins page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.