No use to pretend our
Love is at an end
What happened to the love
That seemed so strong
Everything was going smooth
No other one for me but you
But I won't pretend
Our love is at an end

Castles fell down at my feet
I fell back 'cause I was beat
Someone else had won what I had lost
My happiness will be the cause
What I wanted, now, I've lost
I won't pretend
'Cause our love is at an end

If I love you only

Half of what I do
That would be a thousand times
More than anyone else could do
Nothing I could say or do
Can make you whisper, I love you
So I won't pretend
'Cause our love is at an end
