One too many times ya made me die inside
One too many times ya stripped me of my pride
The straw that broke the camel's back broke this heart of mine
Cause you overhurt and underloved me one too many times

One too many times ya caused my tears to flow
And one too many times ya made my heartaches show We've reached the point of no return we've crossed that parting line
Cause you overhurt and underloved me one too many times

One too many times ya found a way to bring me down
One too many times ya left me cryin' on the ground Love is on a dead end street with a flashin' danger sign
You overhurt and underloved me one too many times

One too many times ya caused my tears to flow
And one too many times ya made my heartaches show
We've reached the point of no return we've crossed
that parting line
Cause you overhurt and underloved me one too many times
You overhurt and underloved me one too many times
