I just wanted to write you a love song
To say I'll always love you
An easy for lovin', mellow love song
One you can put the music to

I just wanted to write a love song
To the woman that made me feel this strong
And I just wanted to do somethin' special
So I wrote you this simple little love song

Together I'm your words and you're my harmony
When we're apart I'm only half of what I wanna be
And in your arms you soothe away all the things that can go wrong
And makes me want to sit and write the lines to this love song

I just wanted to write you a love song

That says I'll always love you
Cause I just wanted to do something special
So I wrote you this simple little love song
Cause I just wanted to do something special
So I wrote you this simple little love song
