You say it's over for us I'm broken hearted
Should find a new love and forget all about you Should find someone who would be honest and faithful to me
Someone who'd love me and never leave me blue

A friend tried to tell me this was happening
That someone was stealing you from me
Now it's happened just like they told me it would
I was too blind too much in love I couldn't see

But if it turns out that he really don't love you

And you are left with a broken heart too
Come back to me I will gladly forgive and forget
You say it's over but I still love you
You say it's over but I still love you
