There was a time
I held you in my arms
Life was perfect
Complete, through and through
Now you're gone
And it shattered all to pieces
I'm learnin' to live
In a world without you
A world without love
Is so hard to bare
It leaves a soul empty
With no one to care
Existing day after day
Trying hard to find my way
While learning to live
In a world without you
I walk the floor
Then turn to the bottle
My heart aches
No matter what I do
A broken heart
Can only take so much hurting
While learning to live
In a world without you
A world without love
Is so hard to bare
It leaves a soul empty
With no one to care
Existing day after day
Trying hard to find my way
While learning to live
In a world without you
