

Marty Stuart

"Orange Blossom Special"

Visit "Orange Blossom Special" on MotoLyrics.com

Tell 'em Marty, you got a word for it

Right here, oh, ooh, oh, look yonder comin'

Where? Where you comin' from?

Right over there boys, comin' down the railroad track

I said look-a-yonder comin', comin' down the railroad track

It's the Orange Blossom Special, bringin' my baby back

I'm goin' down to Florida, gonna get some sand in my shoes

Or maybe California, gotta lose there New York blues

Ride the Orange Blossom Special, now, lose these New York blues

One more time, this song is about a train, ya know

The Orange Blossom Special that used to run from Florida

Up the East Coast and around the East Coast in Virginia

Tater had a little hound dog one time

That played a little bit too close to the train track

And his luck ran out and the train got the hound dog by the tail

Cut his tail off, so Tater, tell 'em a little bit more about your hound dog

A-show 'em how he went, alright

Well, like you said, Marty, he just got to playin' around

A little bit to close to the railroad tracks

Cut about three inches of his tail off, boy, it did hurt

Though I don't know how it would feel but I'm sure it would hurt

He squalled out somethin' like this, he was just a little hound dog right

Really hurt him bad, he turned around about three flips

And took off up towards the house, up through the field there

Every step he was takin' he was a yakin' somethin' like this right here

Visit Marty Stuart page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.