Chased through an everglade
Caught behind a window pane
Lay down captured gave in again
Can't help it
Look I saw a stranger
He asked me in like danger
That's what I needed then
Can't help it
Should I let chance lie sleeping
If I had I wouldn't be here now
How can I help it
When should I say yes or no
How can I help it
A moment's blast and then the past is gone
Pawned in a silent shop
Only the ticking of the clock
I just went in to look around
Yes I touched but I didn't buy
Can't help it
You know I have to grow
And there is so much more
Shadows
