An unbelievable time
I would rush to find
Even if I thought
That it might threaten me
A thousand things to do
To follow them all through Things to learn and see
And they will better me.
I would rush to find
Thumping hard, banging
in my mind.
It's so easy, so easy to fly
If you try, if you try.
She's King.
A throne of violent blue
And nothing to see through Distant eyes to guide
And to enlighten me.
And end to all our pain,
An hour through her heart
Nothing there at least though
It encouraged me.
