Sun don't shine for me because it's raining
Even in my heart it seems to be raining, raining
Since you took your love, there's a little cloud above
That always hovers over me; it won't let me be
Why did you leave me?

I just can't escape this cloud that I'm under Even in my sleep I hear the thunder
I hear the thunder in my heart, 'cause there's a storm
since we're apart
& it's a storm of loneliness; it won't let me be
Why did you leave me?

Others see the sun, but my skies are overcast
A holywind of memories keeps haunting me, haunting me

Sun don't shine for me because it's raining
Always in my heart it seems to be raining
I hear the thunder in my heart, 'cause there's a storm
since we're apart
& it's a storm of loneliness; it won't let me be
Why did you leave me?
