Never coming, never going, never speaking, never saying nothing true
I came here to change it, rearrange it, get my heart out of the blue
And the days went by, it felt just like the end of time
And we watched the sky, it felt just like the end of time When the clouds flew low I thought it was the end of time
And the world turns slow just like it was the end of time

Never falling, never failing, never feeling, never calling in her name
By the lake's side we were closed right and the shake fell like surrender to the flame When you turned and smiled it felt just like the end of time
And my heart's beat wild and felt just like the end of time
When you pulled me down I thought it was the end of time
And I kissed your crown just like it was the end of time

Let the world rush past to it's own destination We're in some other place
Let the people go by to their own destination Ours is down nothing ist strange, the state of brains

When I watched you go it felt just like the end of time
And the radio low, play till the end of time When the stars came out, I thought it was the end of time
And I didn't doubt that we had crossed the end of time, the end of time
When the walls hang out I thought it was the end of time
And I didn't doubt that we had crossed the end of time,
the end of time
When I watched you go it felt just like the end of time
And the radio low, play till the end of time, till the end,
the end of time
