When Did You Stop Loving Me, When Did I Stop Loving
You

(Marvin Gaye)

You know, when you say your marriage vows, they're supposed to be for real. I mean...

if you think back about what you really said, what it's all about, honor, loving and obeying till death do us part and all. But it shouldn't be that way, it should...it should, it should be lies because it turns out to be lies.

If you don't honor what you said, you lie to God. The words should be changed

Ooo now as I recall, we tried a million times

Again and again and again, and that isn't all

I gave my love to you each time to make amends

Suddenly I start to realize I can't make it Pretty birds fly away, I had to leave you for my health's sake

What to do? Make you pay, for leaving you, my fine, is to pay forever

So if a fresh new love comes in, I won't say those words again

Instead I'll say I'll try to love and protect you

With all my heart as long as you want me to baby

Ooo if I love again I'm gonna try a new way this time

Memories of the things we did; some we're proud of, some we hid

So when two people have to part, sometimes it makes them stronger

Do you remember all of the bullshit baby? Yea,

You say you love me with all your heart

If you ever loved me will all of your heart

You'd never take $1 million to part

I really tried, you know I tried, oh baby

Although we tried, all of those promises was nothin' but lies

I really tried, you know how I tried, we really lied, didn't we baby?

And on top of that you have scandalized my name

But I can't understand, 'is if you love me

How could you turn me into the police Didn't I love you good and try to take care of you?
Best I could, you were so divine and your love was like mellow wine Pains of love, miles of tears, enough to last me for my lifetime Broken hearts last for years and break away to the blue-day sunshine
One thing I can promise, friend: I'll never be back again
But we're not really bitter babe I promise you all the love in the world, good love in the world
But I know you'll never be satisfied just to have me by your side
Memories haunt you all the time, I will never leave, you're mine
God judged me on His side; you've said bad things and you've lied Still I remember some of the good things baby
Of love after dark and picnics in parks
Those are the days I'd love to get in my life I'd rather remember, remember the joy we shared babe I'd rather remember all the fun we had All I ever really wanted was to love you and treat you right
All we did was fuss and fight
It don't matter baby, take a lesson from them all I never thought I'd see the day when you'd put me through what you put me through You try your best, you say I gave you no rest (repeat and fade):
When did you stop loving me? When did I stop loving
you?
