Something about this is precious, something about this is sad

Something about this is better, than I've ever had

Hard and lean, you know what I mean?

How do the roots become tangled? why does the spirit grow tired?

Where is the key to your kingdom? yes that's my desire.

Chorus:

There are those who live to count the cost

And then those who count themselves content

I see heaven wrapped up in a box

It is you come back to love again, in a dream, this living dream.

Up in a heap I'm not bothered, down in the dumps I'm okay

Here in my heart you're the best road, that I'll ever take, I'm serene yeh.

Chorus:

There are those who live to take the chance

And then more who find themselves content

I see heaven mapped out in advance

It is you and that's my journeys end, in a dream, this living dream.

I'm trying to hang on to the essence, I'm feeling more faint by the day

It took such a long time to get it, I don't want to see it erased

Chorus:

There are those who live to count the cost

And then more who count themselves content

I see heaven wrapped up in a box

It is you come back to love again, in a dream, this living

This living dream.
