

Mary Chapin Carpenter "Between Here And Gone"

Visit "Between Here And Gone" on MotoLyrics.com

Tonight the moon came up, it was nearly full Way down here on Earth, I could feel it's pull
The weight of gravity, or just the lure of light
Made me want to leave my only home tonight

I'm just wondering how we know where we belong
Is it in a photograph, or a dashboard's poet's song Will I have missed my chance to right some ancient wrong
Should I find myself between here and gone

Now I could grab my keys, peel out my truck
With every cent on board bringing me their luck
I could drive too fast like a midnight sleeve
As if there was a way to outrun the grief

I'm just wondering how we know where we belong
In a song that's left behind, in a dream I couldn't wake from
Could I have felt the brush of a soul that's passing on Somewhere in between here and gone

Up above me
Wayward angels
A blur of wings and grace

One for courage
One for safety
One for 'just in case'

I thought a light went out, but now a candle shines
I thought my tears wouldn't stop, then I dried my eyes
And after all of this, the truth that holds me here
Is that this emptiness is something not to fear

Yeah, I keep wondering how we know where we belong After all the journeys made and the journeys yet to come
When I feel like giving up instead of going on Somewhere in between...

Yeah, I'm just wondering how we know where we belong

Is it in the arc of the moon leaving shadows on the lawn

In the path of fireflies and a single bird at dawn

Singing in between here and gone

Visit Mary Chapin Carpenter page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

MotoLyrics.com | Lyrics, music videos, artist biographies, releases and more.