Mary Gauthier
"Happy Endings"

You know everyday I ask myself the same question
Mary why you going through this
Why you takin yourself through this
But when you love somebody and
Maybe they might not love you but It's hard, it's just so hard but
I just gotta think about myself
Right now and but I gotta remember this

I don't know why
Why you came in my life just to see me cry
Or maybe to see me die
But look at me now
You disguise yourself so well
That I didn't know that I was walkin into hell
But my soul I would never sale
That's why I have this story to tell
And I wanna know

Where is my happy ending
I always knew you were pretending
Now it's clear to see
That there was no real love
From the beginning
See I need to know
Where is my happy ending
You hurt me so bad
There is no mending
Now it's clear to see
That there was no real love
From the beginning

How could you be so cruel
To turn yourself into a fool
Not knowing love was real
Even though you still wasted all my time boy
Now let's go back to day one
When all we knew was having fun
But you stumbled across someone who's better than me
Now I know I ought to be free

Where is my happy ending
I always knew you were pretending
Now it's clear to see
That there was no real love
From the beginning
Where is my happy ending
You hurt me so bad
There is no mending
Now it's clear to see
That there was no real love
From the beginning

You didn't love me, you were fakin
The whole thing was a hoax and I was blind
You really hurt me
What goes around comes around
And the pain you caused will come back to you

Where is my happy ending
I always knew you were pretending
Now it's clear to see
That there was no real love
From the beginning
I need to know
You hurt me so bad
There is no mending
Now it's clear to see
That there was no real love
