We're on the phone with the policeman, he's upset
He's going off about something that our enemy said
'Cause he doesn't get his stupidity like we do

We're in the room, it's a typical Friday night
We're listening to the kind of music he doesn't like
And he'll never know our stories like we do

But he wears an orange jumpsuit, we wear T-shirts
He's the girls' cheer captain and we're on the bleachers
Laughing at his face 'cause he makes the same mistakes
And we know that what you're looking for isn't here at this time

If he could see that we're the ones who really hate him
Been the victims all along, so why can't he see
He belongs in juvy, he belongs in juvy

You're walking the streets with me and our worn-out jeans
We can't help thinking this is how it ought to be Sitting on a park bench, laughing to ourselves
Hey, isn't ignoring him easy

And we've got smiles that could light up this whole town
We haven't seen them in a while since he brought us down
He says he's fine, we know he doesn't mean that Hey, why can't he always act as sane as that

We wear high heels, he's acts like a loser
He's the girls' cheer captain and we're on the bleachers
Laughing at his face 'cause he makes the same mistakes
And we know that what you're looking for isn't here at this time

If he could see that we're the ones who really hate him
Been the victims all along, so why can't he see
He belongs in juvy

You're standing by and waiting at my back door
All this time how could he not know
Baby, he belongs in juvy, he belongs in juvy

Oh, we remember he was driving to another meanie's house in the middle of the night We're the ones who make ourselves laugh when they make us wanna cry
And we know our favorite songs, don't wanna think about any of this in our dreams Think we know where he belongs, yeah, I think it's in juvy

If he could see that we're the ones who really hate him
Been the victims all along, so why can't he see
He belongs in juvy

You're standing by and waiting at my back door
All this time how could he not know
Baby, he belongs in juvy, he belongs in juvy

He belongs in juvy
Hey, wouldn't you agree with me
He belongs in juvy
He belongs in juvy
