Let's get in the car
And drive away from here.
Just for one hour
We will leave it all behind.

We can talk about all the things that
You've always wanted to talk about.
I give you my word that I will listen.
This time I'll listen.

Get away with me.
I'm taking you to places that you've never been.
I am not the same
A second chance for someone who's willing to change.

Let's walk through the field by the river,
like we always used to do.
We'll have a bottle of wine.
You will leave your shirt on this time.
You could lend me an ear and have no fear.
I'll treat you well.
This time won't be the last.
I'll make it a clean break with the past.

Maybe I've never given you
The love that you might have needed.
But people can change you know.
I'm not the same I used to be.
Maybe I've never given you
The love that you might have needed.
It sucks that we've never talked.
Now it's up to me to change direction.
