Hard times are hard to forget.
None of us want evil friends,
but when something mean is done to someone else,
who will not remember it?
Something you just said hurts inside my head,
out on the lawn, under the bridge quietly.
People like you and people like me should just "agree to disagree!"

This day has been the longest day I can ever remember.
Why don't you remember me,
I'll remember you, if you want me to.
Something you just said hurts inside my head.
Out on the beach, in the kitchen everyday.
It's people like you, with a serpent's tongue
that poison everyone.
Eye for an eye. A tooth for my youth.
Good bye for goodbye
