there's a voice in my head and a far away sound i remember there's a picture of you of a strange kind of truth i am seeing i am lost i am found in the sights and the sounds i am hearing i am hearing all kinds of every kind of wonderful all kinds of every kind of dream

there's a calm in this storm at the back of the sea it is raging there's a peace and a quiet in the depths of the night it is drifting there's a solitary moment when all becomes clear i am falling i am falling into i think i'm going to have to make it i think i'm going to have to break it i won't fake it i won't fake it
