I know I've hurt you
And I wonder if you know
That I never really meant to
No I never really meant to
Things have happened in my life
Which have brought me to the way I am today
Don't you know For you I'd gladly change
Turn me around, turn me around
Lead me to the place I should be found
Turn me around, turn me around
Lift me to higher ground
If you really really want to
Oh you know that you can mold me to you
It would be so easy
To give up and walk away
But please don't let that happen
We just cannot let that happen
Things that I have done to you
Or have made you think that I don't really care
Tell me how can I show you you I do?
Turn me around, turn me around
Lead me to the place I should be found
Turn me around, turn me around
Lift me to higher ground.
If you really really want to
Oh you know that you can mold me to you
Turn me around, turn me around
Lift me to higher... ground.
