Raindrops on the kitchen floor
And the curtain is blowing where the windows open
Your arms wrapped around my neck
And the kitchen sink is just overflowin'
On top of this crazy world,
There's a perfect face and I finally see it
One dream in these dreamless times
You need a beacon of hope and I want to be it

And you know that it's true
This heart was made for you
You know that it's true
This heart was made for you

Rest-stop on a good road trip,
I recognize ya in an instant from a rollin' distance
Walking out into a grove of trees
And the love that I feel is just overwhelmin'
Spring flower by a singing stream
And the secret to the thing is let nothing divided us
One boat in an open sea,
It's just you and me and our hearts to guide us

And you know that it's true
This heart was made for you
You know that it's true
This heart was made for you

How am I gonna live forever?
Promise me you will call it off the age of reason
There's no more time to kill
Show me, show me

Raindrops on the kitchen floor
And the smell of pines come slowly driftin'
I've stood here so many times,
Put your hand in mine, makes it feel so different

And you know that it's true
This heart was made for you
You know that it's true

This heart was made for you
You know that it's true
This heart was made for you
Oh yes for you
