(Lyrics : Greg Conan / Chris Palengat)

Exorcize them from evil

They're possessed by the devil

Mortify their flesh, save their souls

They must atone for their faults, what is written must be told

Deliver these heretics, from a life of sin

Court is in session, shall we begin

Save them from eternal damnation

Purify them for the resurrection

They've yielded to the temptation of the snake

These evil doers must be burnt at the stake

They're under the influence of a fallen angel

Cast him out for god's sake

Mortify their flesh, save their soul's

Brand them with an iron, until they beg their pardon

Stigmatize their bodies, until they cry for mercy

Torment them forever, in the name of god

Mortify their flesh, pray for their souls

Crush every bone, until all is told

Mortify their flesh, god rest their soul

Spill their blood to gain control

The flesh is weak, and the spirit too

I reign supreme, over millions like you

In the name, and the glory of god

Your serve unto me, drink from my cup
