Fly me as i dont want to loose my way
Take me as i dont want to miss my train

I know you choose your people not looking at what they are I know you set your morning sun and the position of the stars

Blame me for the trouble in my life
Try me i promise i wont breake my word

I know you build us people with flesh, bones and with sour Fights
I know you set our rainy days and the darkness in our nights

And now that the rain is coming it puts us to the test
It makes the people happy it makes all the worries rest

But i came all the way to join you and that was an harder pain
And i cant make it without you and i cant just sit on the rain

Take me i am one of yours
Try me i promise i wont breake your heart

I know you build us people with dreams, blood and with tears
To dispear
I know you set our morning rush that is taking us now here

And now that the rain is coming and your light is so far away
I cant just leave it to my songs i cant just sit down and pray

This morning seems a better one with our children all at play
All my yesterdays are already gone i am left with my today
