Far beneath the raging sea
On the ocean floor
So many ships are lost eternally
With no light to guide them

To the safety of the shore
They go down for evermore
Beneath the unforgiving oceans roar
Only light can save them

Will you shine again to night?
Lead them safely through the night

Shine on, shine on
Through the darkest night, shine on
Shine on, shine on
Till the morning light, shine on

Let your guiding light
Keep shining through the night

Though your warning often goes unheeded
Though there are still many lost at sea
Let your light so shine
For the few who seek to find their way to safety

Form the deadly undertow that lies below
Those who seek will follow
Lead them safely to your shore
With a light they can't ignore

Shine on, shine on
Through the darkest night, shine on
Shine on, shine on
Till the morning light, shine on

Let your guiding light
Keep shining through the night

Shine on, shine on
Through the darkest night, shine on
Shine on, shine on

Till the morning light, shine on

Shine on, shine on

Till the darkness hides, shine on

Shine on, shine on

Don't give up your fight, shine on, on me
