"Bleeding Eyes"

Inside my camera is watching
Memorizing my view of earth
And stained is the eye
Ambitions not where they should be
Out of focus, too much fantasy
Within hides the dreamer

From the north to the desert sand
Chaos disturbed the land
And revelation was left behind us
Lost without a cry
A silent lullaby
And I'm waiting, waiting for the healer

I see with bleeding eyes
I carry the world on my shoulders
The load is heavy
And it's time for an awakening

The road is long, I've been told
But I think it's short
Time goes by and I wonder
How the world is taught

From the streets of Babylon
To the sound of a modern gun
I know the story but it doesn't come clean
I'm a superstitious man, fed the neon screen

Riding on the rise of tomorrow
Fading rainbow in the eyes of sorrow
I've read the script, rehearsed the dream
Faking death at the battle scene, yeah

I wanna change it
I wanna change it
I wanna change it
Rearrange it

I wanna change it
I wanna change it

I see with bleeding eyes
I carry the world on my shoulders
The load is heavy
And it's time for an awakening

The road is long, I've been told
But I think it's short
Time goes by and I wonder
How the world is taught

From the streets of Babylon
To the sound of a modern gun
I know the story but it doesn't come clean
I'm a superstitious man, fed the neon screen

Riding on the rise of tomorrow
Fading rainbow in the eyes of sorrow
I've read the script, rehearsed the dream, yeah
Faking death at the battle scene

From the streets of Babylon
To the sound of the modern gun
I know the story but it doesn't come clean
I'm a superstitious man, fed the neon screen

Riding on the rise of tomorrow
Fading rainbow in the eyes of sorrow
I've read the script, rehearsed the dream, yeah
Faking death at the battle scene

I see with bleeding eyes

I wanna change it
I carry the world on my shoulders

I wanna change it
Rearrange it
