you're watching everything you ever held on to slip away from you and all you're running from well it's catching up to you

got you looking for a lifeline
swimming in the high tide
waiting for the daylight
to bring you home

the world is too big to never ask why the answers don't fall straight out of the sky i'm fighting to live and feel alive but i can't feel a thing without you by my side send me out a lifeline you're watching everyone you ever belonged to walk away from you maybe all along you've been running from the truth

you're swimming in the high tide

there's nothing i would change, i'd give it all away for you again and again and over again everything i own is in your control i'm looking for a lifeline

swimming in the high tide
to bring me home

New York To California

under the tv lights you fell asleep again don't know i'm writing this song about you there's a picture of a hollywood sign reflecting off your skin
i don't wanna live another day without you you woke up and said baby i had one of those dreams again the rain came down and i lost you in the wind

you said something about don't leave before you fell back asleep before i could sing my song back to ya that you could find yourself lost out in this world and i'd find a way to get back to your side no mountain is too high, no stone is too small i'd build a bridge through the fire

for you i would crawl
from new york to california

i can hear you softly breathe oh what you do to me if baby i could climb down into your dreams i'd build a ladder down through the clouds where the storm is raging now i don't wanna sing another song without ya if you found yourself lost out in this world then i'd find a way to get back to your side

la la la la la la
oh oh it's not too far
la la la la la la
oh oh to where you are â'cause you could find yourself lost out in this world

and i'd find a way to get back to your side if you find yourself lost out in this world
then i'd find a way to get back to your side
