Speak to me
Tell me something so typical
A lullaby or something miserable
That will keep me up at night

Cross out my eyes
I know you planned it
You know I love you
And I can't stand it
We just lost control
We just lost control

Lie to me
Give me something worth living for
Tell me a reason worth fighting for
Give me anything
Anything to keep me breathing
Lie to me
Give me something worth living for
Tell me a reason worth fighting for (fighting for)
Give me anything (anything)
Anything to keep me breathing

Lie to me
Tell me a story so beautiful
An epic of something so terrible
That it makes me weep

Cross out these days on your calendar
It hurts me so much
And I'm not quite sure
I care anymore
I care anymore

Lie to me
Give me something worth living for
Tell me a reason worth fighting for
Give me anything
Anything to keep me breathing
Lie to me
Give me something worth living for
Tell me a reason worth dying for (dying for)

Give me anything (anything)
Anything to keep me breathing

(...music interlude...)
