speak to me
tell me something so typical a lullaby or something miserable that will keep me up at night

cross out my eyes
i know you planned it
you know i love you
and i can't stand it
we just lost control

lie to me
give me something worth living for tell me a reason worth fighting for give me anything, anything to keep me breathing

go lie to me
tell me stories so beautiful an epic of something so terrible that it makes me weep

cross out these days
on the calendar
it hurts me so much
and im not quite sure
i care anymore
(i care anymore)

tell me a reason worth dying for

[x2]

anything to keep me breathing
