Don't make me stay to long, I might think you want me
But before the night is gone our love may be revealed

Don't try to tell me what kind of love I need
If you don't love me, don't say anything
Just take a little bit more from me, anything you need
Show me your sorrow, show me your grief
'Cause it's okay with me

Now don't turn away from me, I see things in your eyes
And if you see the same in mine, why did you put your Love aside

Don't try to tell me what kind of love I need
If you don't love me, don't say anything
Just take a little bit more from me, anything you need
Show me your sorrow, show me your grief
'Cause it's okay with me

I've been trapped inside things that made me believe
You were there to show me how you could hold me
But I no longer can see inside this disease
But I know we've shared love so sweet

Don't try to tell me what kind of love I need
If you don't love me, don't say anything
Just take a little bit more from me, anything you need
Show me your sorrow, show me your grief
'Cause it's okay with me

Don't try to tell me what kind of love I need
If you don't love me, don't say anything
Just take a little bit more from me, anything you need
Show me your sorrow, show me your grief
'Cause it's okay with me
'Cause it's okay with me
It's okay with me
