Obstacles, they come and go, thats the name of the game you know
This life cant be bought nor sold, play your cards then fold Cant give back the time you stole, path unravels, the day unfolds
This life cant be bought nor sold, play your cards

Two steps forward, take one step back Every time I get on track light fades to black When the curtain drops back and I step to my destiny
I find my freedom right in front of me

Its in your eyes, I see when we dance to the beat And these sweet melodies ride in on a breeze Trees part for me but these sharks still circle through the park

I look to you
Its in my nature to listen to you
I ran after you and the lights went blue
Me and you, you and me, share my heart with you Youre my family now

Obstacles, they come and go, thats the name of the
game you know
This life cant be bought nor sold, play your cards then
fold
Cant give back the time you stole, path unravels, the
day unfolds
This life cant be bought nor sold, play your cards

Once upon a time I ran to you Banned myself to find your wealth
And return to the land of truth, Found myself all alone as the stars, they kiss

Still running after you through this wilderness At dawn I track snow through backyards and front lawns Im up late, wide awake, Im reborn as day breaks and gets calm

I look to you

Its in my nature to listen to you

I ran after you and the lights went blue

Obstacles, they come and go, thats the name of the
game you know

This life cant be bought nor sold, play your cards then

Cant give back the time you stole, path unravels, the
day unfolds

This life cant be bought nor sold, play your cards then

Sifting through the sand

A man is just a man

No matter how you fan the flame, it all comes out the same

In the end you were my friend

same

In the end you were my friend

game you know

This life cant be bought nor sold, play your cards then

Cant give back the time you stole, path unravels, the
day unfolds

fold
