Dream awake make no mistake
Strive to be alive most everyday
You can listen stereo or monotone
Mega phone, mellow drone DJ with delay
Relay super surfer high stereo sound

Radio station super space nation fight the foe
This one's about to blow up
I'm 2 flu's over the kookoo's nest and won't rest
Bless up with no vest with a shield to protect

Smash lies, wake up stand up and jump off to this
Some piece of mind from the daily grind

Find lines to move guys rely on a vision Filled with rhymes, the room is filled with villains and ghost
We toast and coast to the next host
Many boast of battles won and the day is fadin' fast

The work is passed through the self destruction
Why you wanna burn why you wanna drown?
Why you wanna die by the high way?
The front lines intertwine

We'll bounce over beats and rock shows
So fast so slow never know where the day may go
Bounce and we bubble over hills and valleys

We go through the fields of green in between destinies
Or just get high, nah, there's no need
No need to feed on the scraps of the enemy
Where's the bad guy on the inside, one day I might try
