What kind of love am I feeling
That I can't let go
I feel lost in a world that I thought I had control

When the night becomes the day
And you're trying to forget
You ever felt this way- no, no, no
Since you've been gone
I live in a strange town
I try don't know what
But I can't find my way out
Girl, since you've been gone

I've been back down the road to the places
Where I used to go
Is it me that I see on the place
I used to know

When the night becomes the day
And you're trying to forget
You ever felt this way- no, no, no
Since you've been gone
I live in a strange town
I try don't know what
But I can't find my way out
Girl, since you've been gone

How many times
Can I deny
This hurt I'm feeling inside
It doesn't take a fool to realize
That you'll never come back

When the night becomes the day
And you're trying to forget
You ever felt this way- no, no, no
Since you've been gone
I live in a strange town
I try don't know what
But I can't find my way out
Girl, since you've been gone

Don't you know that
I can't take another day
Can't take another night
'Cause there's no way out
