Here I am again
On my knees
I must let go of this false security
Holding on too long
I've been trying to attain
Mental pictures of my life to fill this empty frame

But you come and find me
You're all I need

How wide, how high, how deep is your love
How mysterious your ways
Through the depths, through the heights of life
Lord, I live to sing your praise
Cause your love endures
Your love endures forever

Here I am again
Wanting to breathe
The fragrance of all you are to me
Open up my heart
So I can feel again
The power of the cross
And the healing in your hand

Then you come and find me
You're all I need
