I think I made me/may be wise
I think you made me crazy
That's why I connect the dots on every page
Who knows why I see what I see in the skies
That I've gone and I'm haunted by images
Your arms 'round my body like two human bandages
And they're healing my spirit
Are they sending me messages?
CHORUS
You are not lost, you are not wrong
You are not that which you most fear
Tell your demons to disperse
They are not welcome here
And if I miss you
And if we falter
We will rendezvous
Under the water
I think I made you wise
I think you made you crazy
And that's why you can only see underneath
Who knows why you see what you see in my eyes
Now you've gone and you've left you with memories
And they're fragile and fading like gray ghostly entities
And I swear if you listen they're sending you energy
CHORUS
Gotta hold your breath, gotta hold this hand
Gotta hold your thoughts on dry land
Maybe we're not that wise
Maybe we're not that crazy
