Hey baby, don't close your eyes
Don't close your eyes now
Hey darling, look up at the stars tonight
Can you see everlasting light all around
And fear just melts away when I hold you close to me, yeah

I don't want to spend another night alone
Now that this lonely restless feeling is gone
I want to stay awake tonight
Till the sunrise

Now we're waking up to the light
Of a brand new day
Seeing storms that might come our way
We can get through
And it's safe to say
Your love has changed everything
A new story and we're at the beginning
Feels like we could fly away, defying gravity, yeah

I don't want to spend another night alone
Now that this lonely restless feeling is gone
I want to stay awake tonight
Till the sunrise
It's like the stars are shining for us
And the moon is high
With these promises forever, till the end of time
I want to stay awake tonight
Till the sunrise

Oh, oh, oh I want to stay awake tonight, yeah
And we can count all the stars tonight
Till the sunrise

Hey baby, don't close your eyes
Don't close your eyes now...

I don't want to spend another night alone
Now that this lonely restless feeling is gone
I want to stay awake tonight

Till the sunrise
It's like the stars are shining for us
And the moon is high
With these promises forever, till the end of time
I want to stay awake tonight
Till the sunrise
